

Williamsville students named AP scholars

In recognition of their achievement on the college-level Advanced Placement (AP) examinations last May, the College Board has named 214 Williamsville Central School District AP scholars.

Students take AP exams after completing college-level courses at their high schools. The majority of colleges and universities in the United States grant academic credit, advanced placement, or both to incoming students with qualifying AP grades. The exams are graded on a 5-point scale with five being the highest score.

Fourteen Williamsville students achieved the highest recognition by qualifying for AP National Scholar Awards, earning an average grade of 4 or higher on eight or more AP Examinations. They are, from North High School, 2006 graduates Deborshi Ghosh, Doowon Huh, James O'Leary, and senior Jenny Zhang; and from East High School, senior Jean-Gabriel Coignet and 2006 graduates Jonathan Cohan, Bo Hu, Christopher Llop, Nethra Madurai, Robert Niles, Steven Rice, Jason Scheff, Thomas Smith, and Li Wang.

The AP Scholar with Distinction Award designation is granted to students who receive an average grade of at least 3.5 on all AP exams taken, and a grade of 3 or higher on five or more of these exams on full-year courses. The following Williamsville students received this distinction: from North HS, graduates: Samantha Berger, Lindsay Berman, Emily Berry, Stephen Berus, Anthony Blatner, Michael Dobmeier, Nicholas Fischer, Deborshi
