

Obituaries

Lorraine J. Lynn, community service worker

Lorraine Jean Lynn, 87, a long-time resident of Williamsville, died Saturday, May 31, 2008, in the Center for Hospice & Palliative Care, Cheektowaga.

Born Lorraine Jean Attea in Buffalo, she began her career of service after she graduated from D'Youville College in 1942 with a degree in sociology. She then received a certificate in social work from the University of Buffalo and became a careworker for Catholic Charities.

Mrs. Lynn served on the Catholic Charities Advisory Board for five years, two as chairwoman; was a chairwoman of the executive board of Kevin Guest House; volunteered at Roswell

Lynn

Park; and served on D'Youville's Alumni Association board of directors for more than 10 years.

In 1974, she received the Anne Lum Distinguished Alumnus Award from D'Youville, an award given annually to past graduates for professional achievement and service to the community and college.

Mrs. Lynn enjoyed skiing and was a member of Brookfield Country Club where she served as president of the Women's Association.

She is survived by her husband of 62 years, Ferdinand; two sons, Robert and Richard; three daughters, Cheryl Merrifield-Radecki, Lori Nicholson and Mary Jewett; 10 grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Lynn was predeceased by her daughter Leslie and by a great-granddaughter.

A Mass of Christian Burial was held Tuesday, June 3, at SS. Peter and Paul Church, Williamsville.

David J. Culligan, former resident, sailor

David J. Culligan, of Raleigh, N.C., formerly of Williamsville, died Tuesday, June 17, 2008.

Mr. Culligan was a graduate of Williamsville High School. He enlisted in the U.S. Navy following graduation and served for 20 years. During his career, he completed 21 tours on six different submarines.

Culligan

Mr. Culligan enjoyed the outdoors and was an accomplished craftsman.

He is the son of the late Malachi and Dorothy Culligan.

Mr. Culligan is survived by his daughters, Tanya Culligan and Teresa Pollock; sons, Brian and Michael; and brothers, Terry and Bruce Sr.

A memorial service was held on Saturday, June 21, 2008, at the Browne-Wynne Funeral Home, Cary, N.C. A naval burial at sea will take place at a later date.

Daniel A. MacLeod, former Williamsville resident

Daniel Angus MacLeod, of Loris, S.C., formerly of Williamsville, died Sunday, June 8, 2008.

Born in Salamanca, N.Y., on June 26, 1957, Mr. MacLeod graduated from Williamsville South High School.

He attended SS. Peter and Paul School. Mr. MacLeod worked as a painter and carpenter. He loved restoring furniture and recently graduated from a local computer class.

He is survived by his daughters, Cheyanne Seelau and Jenea MacLeod; son, Myles; parents, Norman and Isadora MacLeod; sisters, Peggy Vogel and Lynn Strom; brother, Norman Jr; and four grandchildren.

Services were held Thursday, June 12, in Loris, S.C.

Dominic J. Agnello, WWII veteran

Dominic J. Agnello, 84, of Amherst, died Saturday, June 28, 2008, at Oakwood Health Care.

Born in Buffalo on July 2, 1923, to Dominic Agnello and Angela Grisanti, he attended Hutch Tech High School and served in the Navy during World War II.

He owned and operated Clinton Welding and Fabricator in the city of Buffalo for 15 years.

Mr. Agnello was a member of St. Margaret Seniors and Falcon Club and was an usher and Holy Name member at Christ the King Church in Snyder. He was also a volunteer with St. Gregory Food Shuttle and St. Vincent de Paul Society.

He is survived by his wife of 60 years, Coletta Friedrich; a daughter, Denise Morse; four sons, Donald, Ronald, Gary and Jerry Agnello; sisters Mildred Casciano, Rose Popp and Frances York; and brothers Sam, Joseph, Frank and Charles Agnello.

He was predeceased by two sisters, Lena and Mary Territo.

Funeral services were held this week at Greco Family Home and Christ the King Church, Snyder.

Agnello

Business News

Steve Glamuzina recently opened his newly renovated 10,000-square-foot wine retail and education facility, Georgetown Square Wines and Liquors. The business offers wine education classes, tastings and other special events.

William Scott Saperston of Amherst was named to Smith Barney's Blue Chip Council, a recognition program for financial advisers, who within their first five years demonstrate the highest professional standards in addition to excellence in client service. He has been a member of Smith Barney for more than two years, with eight years served in the financial services industry. He was previously with the Private Wealth Management Group at Goldman Sachs in Chicago.

Excelsior Orthopaedics, located in Amherst, recently had Stan Kush, a certified public accountant, join the practice as the director of finance. His financial background includes 14 years of accounting experience in the health care industry in addition to 12 years of auditing experience in the banking industry and government entities. Also joining Excelsior is Carm Caruana, named director of human resources and organizational development. She originally worked in physician practices as an office manager but has spent the last 16 years at Independent Health.

The Karen Butterson Insurance Agency, located in Amherst, has been recognized by Allstate Insurance Company for high standards in customer satisfaction, customer retention and profitability. The agency has achieved the distinctive Allstate Regional Champion Gold Level award and is one of the top Allstate agencies in the nation in auto, property and commercial insurance and financial service sales.

A premier stroke center that's just minutes away?

Thank heavens.

A stroke is an attack on your brain. And every second that goes by, can mean brain function lost. That's why the best stroke center is the one closest to you. Catholic Health is proud to offer our patients three hospital locations that have achieved New York State's highest designation as stroke centers. So when stroke strikes, there's a treatment option that's closer to home. Three distinguished stroke centers supported by a ministry of care. That means peace of mind for everyone.

Catholic Health
see us in a new light